Class Specification

COURT SUPERVISOR II

Range: 13

EEO4: 6

SOC: 11-9199

Class Code: C4322

Definition:

Under general direction, the Court Supervisor II serves as either the supervisor of a small division or the assistant supervisor of a large department usually consisting of 10 or more Deputy Clerk positions. This is a supervisory job class with substantial authority to employ, discipline, and adjudicate the grievances of subordinate employees.

Distinguishing Characteristics:

Positions in the Court Supervisor series serve as supervisors or assistant supervisors of organizational units within the trial courts. Court Supervisors are delegated supervisory responsibility for clerical, technical, and paraprofessional positions in the court system. The level of supervision exercised is an important distinguishing characteristic and is an integral part of the duties and responsibilities of positions allocated to this class series. Supervision of staff is the primary distinction between positions in the Court Supervisor series and positions in the Deputy Clerk series.

The Court Supervisor II functions as either the supervisor of a trial court division that is comprised of three or fewer Deputy Clerks I or II, or as the assistant supervisor of a larger division. Supervision of employees is a major function and responsibility of a Court Supervisor II.

The Court Supervisor II is distinguished from the Court Supervisor I by the role of the Court Supervisor I as an assistant supervisor responsible for training.

The Court Supervisor II is distinguished from the Court Supervisor III by the role of the Court Supervisor III as the supervisor of a large division consisting of at least four Deputy Clerks.

Duties require either a working knowledge of multiple court functions or detailed knowledge of one function (criminal, civil, traffic, etc.) Incumbents must be able to analyze facts and apply the policies, rules and procedures to situations not previously encountered. Duties require working independently toward general results, devising new methods, modifying or adapting standard procedures to meet new situations.

Duties require training and experience to: apply statutes, regulations, rules, and prescribed practice; select the appropriate rule or procedure; and make decisions that normally have a higher consequence of error. Incumbents must make difficult or complex decisions within the scope of the applicable policies and procedures, and be able to use independent judgment in so doing.

Supervision Received: Court Supervisors II receive general direction from the Clerk of Court, supervisor of a large in-court department, or other supervising authority. Routine detailed work is rarely reviewed. Supervision and evaluation are based on the overall production and efficiency of the functions and staff supervised by incumbents in this classification.

Supervision Exercised: Court Supervisors II are responsible for, or assist in the recruitment, training, evaluation, and discipline of Deputy Clerks and other staff. They may also settle informal disputes or recommend resolutions among subordinate employees. Responsible, independent judgment is exercised in these functions.

Examples of Duties:

Supervise trial court activities within a designated division such as customer service, civil, criminal, in-court, accounting, traffic, or probate.

Plan, assign, and review the work of subordinate employees. Establish daily work priorities and schedules. Monitor the daily workflow. Ensure that standards for accuracy and processing are met within the deadlines established in statute, regulation, rule, or procedure.

Interview, hire, train, evaluate, and discipline subordinate employees. Prepare interim and annual performance evaluations in advance of the due date; discuss ratings with the employee; and forward for supervisory review and approval. Review and approve leave requests.

Produce regular and ad hoc reports for court managers.

Function as a working supervisor performing the more complex work of the unit as well as the administrative and supervisory duties.

Perform the job duties of subordinates as necessary to maintain workflow during absences or peak workload.

Evaluate established policies and procedures. Recommend and implement changes in work procedures. Develop new policies and procedures to meet the changing needs of the court. Prepare, maintain, and update procedural manuals and resource materials.

Answer inquiries in writing, in person, and over the phone from judges, attorneys, and the general public concerning specific cases and/or general court policies and/or court procedures.

Perform other related duties as required.
